

---

BUSINESS

---

NOTES

---

---

Personal Achievements

The Ann Arbor Ad Club presented Kelly Parkinson with its Volunteer of the Year Award for outstanding efforts for the club's programs. Parkinson, a sales manager with Saline-based Allegra Print & Imaging, is president of the organization and ADDY Competition chairwoman. Jill Wagner, owner of the graphic design firm Wagner Design, also was given a Volunteer of the Year award. She is a founding member of the club and has been instrumental in several areas, including membership.

Harry Grenawitzke, vice president of regulatory affairs at NSF International of Ann Arbor, has received the 2002 Walter S. Mangold Award. The award is the highest honor that the National Environmental Health Association gives to its members.

Company Achievements

Ann Arbor-based InterFirst Wholesale Mortgage Lending was awarded the Affiliate Company of the Year by the National Association of Mortgage Brokers. InterFirst is a division of ABN AMRO Mortgage Group Inc., also based in Ann Arbor.

New Products & Services

Ann Arbor-based Cybernet Systems Corp. launched its new Linux-based suite of products to meet small office needs. The NetMAX Professional Suite and VPN Server Suite were formerly available only as software, and now come integrated with a hardware appliance. The package helps with Web server management.

To submit items for a Business Notes listing:

Fax: (734) 994-6879

E-mail:

Businessnews@annarbornews.com